

Paying lip service

Expect the unexpected and a few extremes

Erin Kobayashi

1 Statement lashes

Ready to play? Dramatic, theatrical and eye-popping lashes are big (and do we mean big!). Fresh from the Shu Uemura Tokyo Lash Bar are creations like snow twist, lucent rainbow and goldglam leaf, inspired by the natural world. $33, statement; $95, premium, at Holt Renfrew.

2 The little black lip

Dress up your lips with Coco Chanel's favourite colour: black. The Chanel Noirs Obscurs collection introduces various shades of Rouge Allure premium black lipstick: Maniac, Hysteria and Obscure. $37, at Chanel beauty counters.

3 Dirty hair

It's not a dirty little secret that hair looks best the day after you wash it. Kevin Murphy Fresh Hair is a dry shampoo that acts as a deodorizing hair cleanser, soaking up excess oil, dust and odour from dirty locks. $22, at beauty retailers and salons.

4 Lengths and bounds

It almost looks like it hurts to be beautiful with Givenchy Phenomenon'Eyes mascara. The wand, which has a spiky spherical tip that resembles a flail, helps sculpt and separate hard-to-reach lashes. $32, at Sephora.

red. Revlon Crème Gloss Fiercely Fuchsia injects high gloss shine and Vitamin E into a full, bright colour for some serious lip service. $11.95, at Shoppers Drug Mart.

with M.A.C. Reflects Glitter in rust, a sparkling, warm red that will punch up your peepers for a knockout look. $23.50, at M.A.C. stores and counters.

company. Exuberance She's So Lovely rose daily moisturizer is a facial lotion made with organic ingredients. $46, at exuberancebeauty.com and well.ca.
